EXPERIENCE WITH SOME BAD DISKS

... A warning to members about purchasing floppy disks manufactured by OPUS. If you've bought any, watch out for failures such as "unable to read file" error messages. We bought about 70 of them at one time. They were used by a number of different people in our offices on a number of different Apple ///'s. Within a few months many people were experiencing difficulties, loss of files, etc. Never had this kind of problem with our 3M disks. The bottom line was that we stopping using any of the Opus disks and are back working with a reliable product.

- Barry Downes, New York

(Editors Note: The disks sold by ATUNC are not only inexpensive but we have had no problems in using nearly 1000 of the disks.)
